The Rock and Roll Rocket

(provided as a rough representation of the Welsh text, for explanatory purposes)

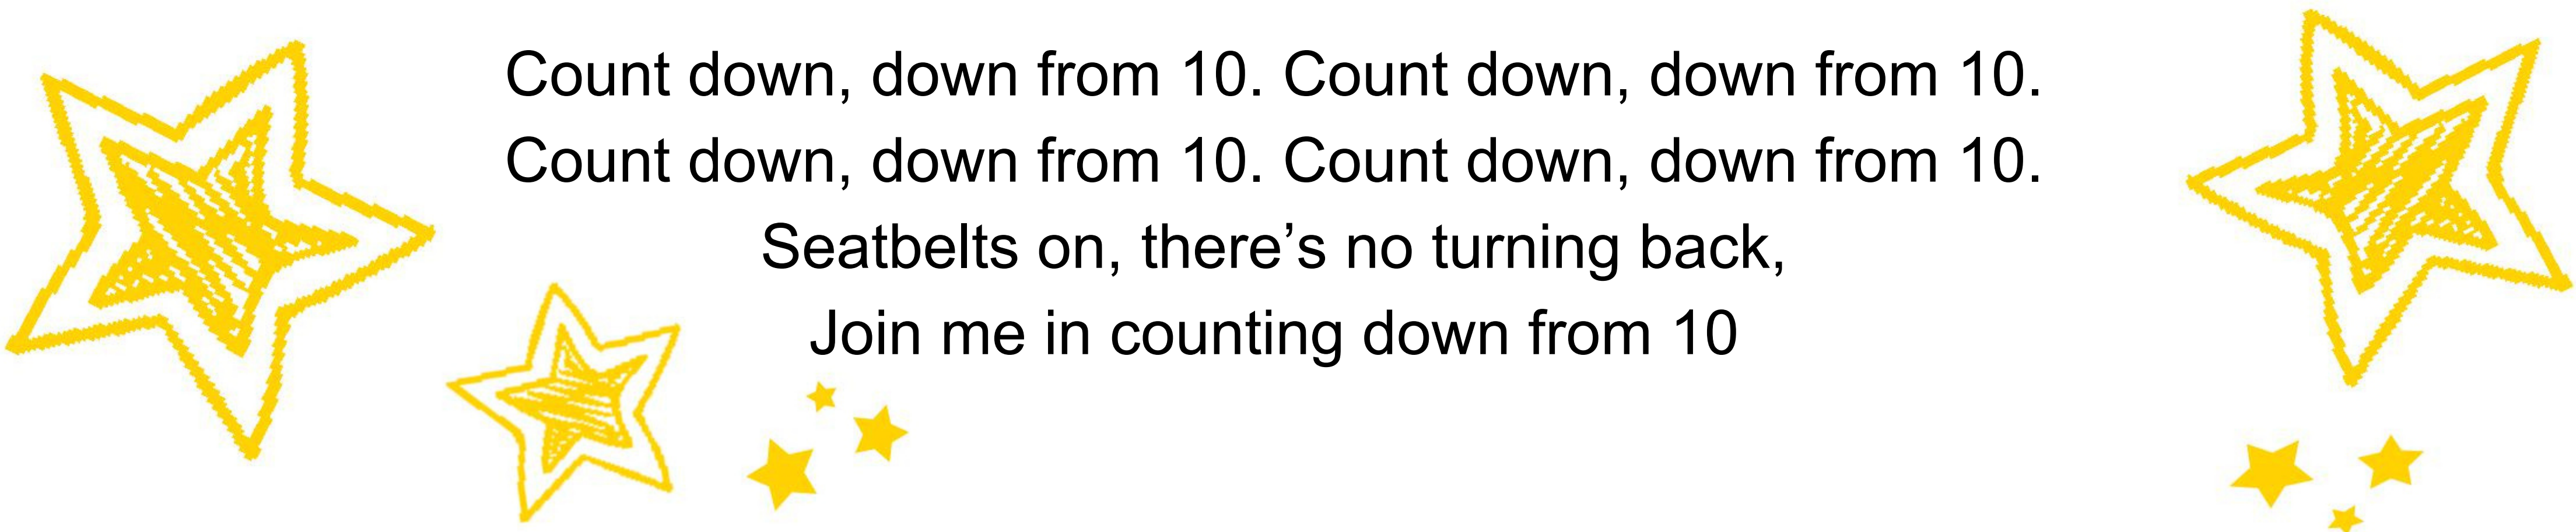

(10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1)

(The time has come to count down. Launching the rocket.
Launching the rocket.)

Wake up one morning, want to leave the planet,
Fly away, say goodbye to you all
I want to walk on the moon, dance with the stars
Build me a rocket and put it in gear.

Seatbelts on, there's no turning back,
But before launching the rocket we must count down from 10

Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.
Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.
Seatbelts on, there's no turning back,
Join me in counting down from 10

The Rock and Roll Rocket

(10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1)

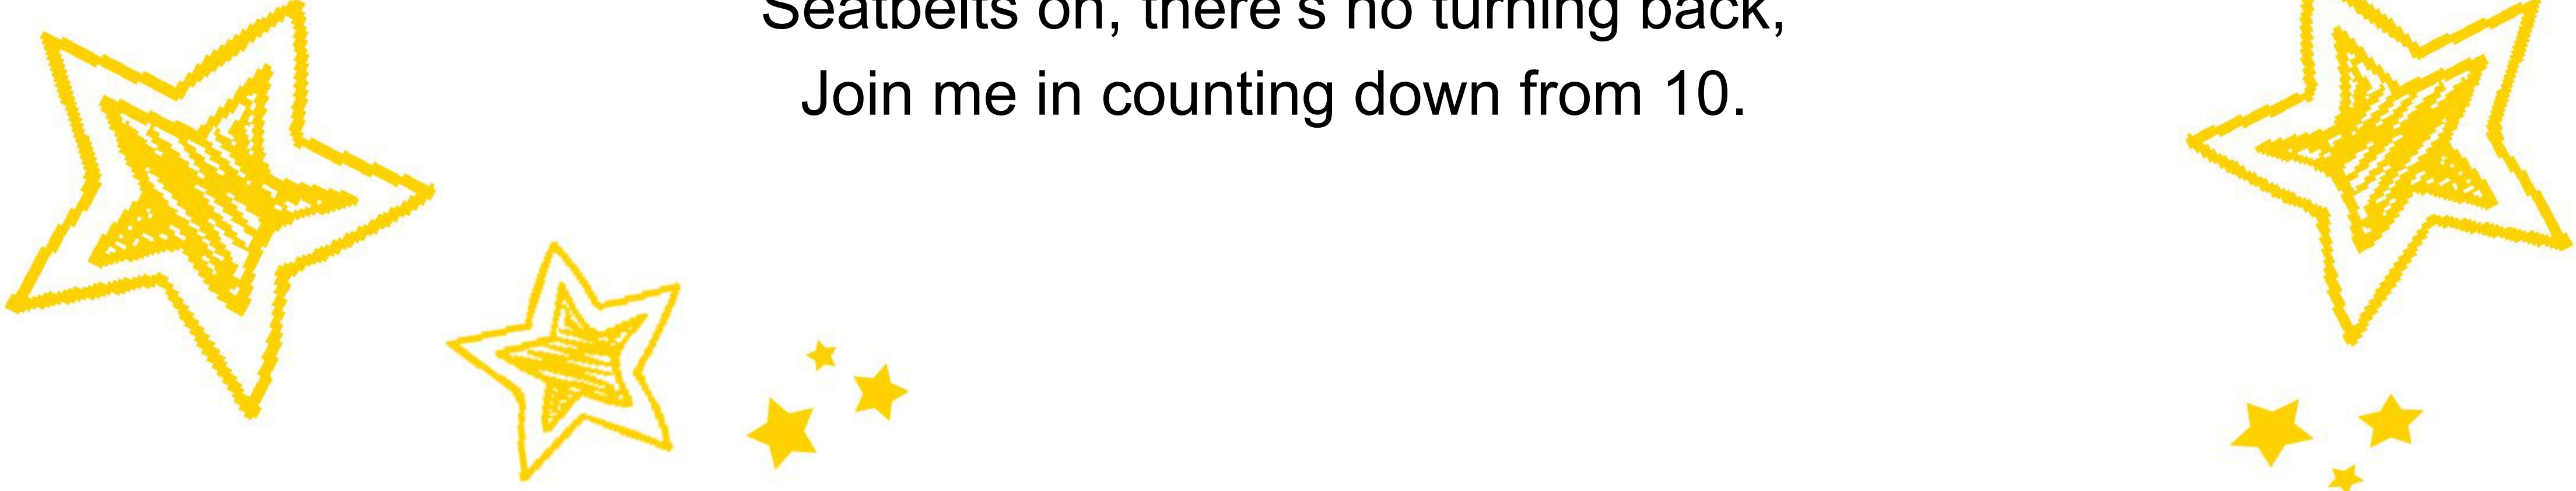

Dress like an astronaut, put my helmet on,
Sit in the seat, starting to feel the pressure
The lights are flashing and the doors are closing
Everything's shaking and the noise is getting louder

Seatbelts on, there's no turning back,
But before launching the rocket we must count down from 10

Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.
Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.

Seatbelts on, there's no turning back,
Join me in counting down from 10.

The Rock and Roll Rocket

(10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1)

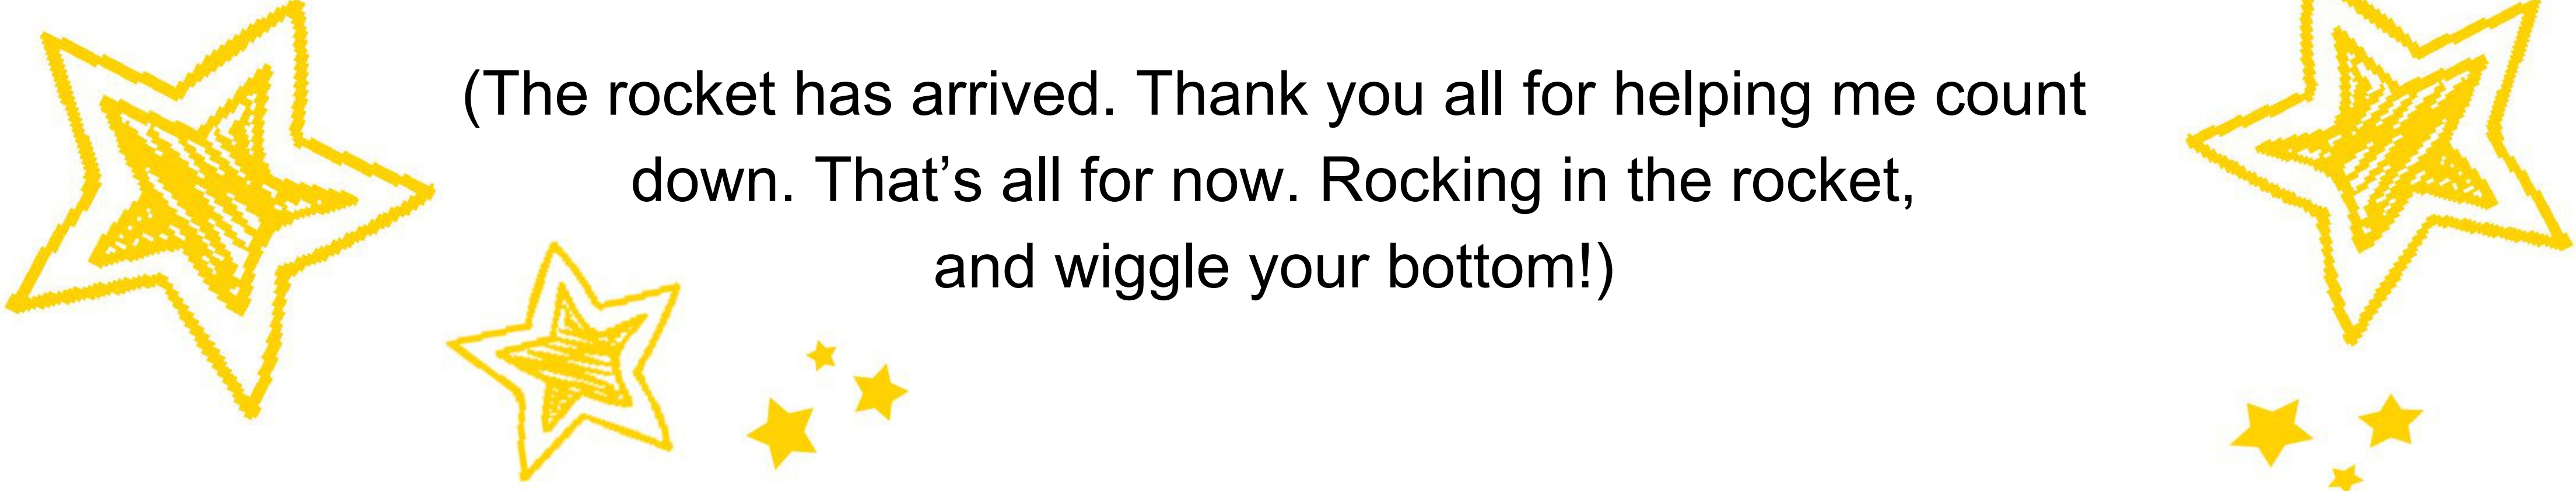

Flying through the skies, through the many clouds,
Travelling with each other, just the rocket and me.

Land on the moon, look back at the Earth,
I'm far from my home, from all my friends

I thought I was clever, but I was a fool,
I must get in the rocket and fly back!

Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.
Count down, down from 10. Count down, down from 10.

(The rocket has arrived. Thank you all for helping me count down. That's all for now. Rocking in the rocket, and wiggle your bottom!)
